My vision for NEW: PATHS

All of our clients have great potential, but they need resources to help them realize that potential. My Vision for NEW: PATHS is that we continue to assist them with finding and utilizing the resources they need to succeed. The work we do, as human services professionals, is incredibly important, more so now than ever before. NEW: PATHS is vital to making connections with others who do the same work. By networking and connecting we learn from each other and pass that knowledge along.

By being a board member, I hope to continue making a difference and encouraging others to do the same.
